General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) 2018

It is now necessary for members to agree what information is held about them and how it is stored and used. We currently hold names, addresses, telephone numbers (landline and mobile where available) and email addresses for our members. This is stored on the membership secretary's PC, and shared with other committee members as necessary for the administration of the society. It will not be passed to any outside organisation without your express consent. You may inspect the information held or ask for it to be deleted at any time. Data relating to ex-members will be deleted from the computer record within 12 months of that person ceasing to be a member.

Please sign the declaration below to confirm that you are agreeable to this policy, otherwise we will have to delete your particulars and you will no longer receive information from the society.

Declaration:

I agree to the above personal information being held about me and shared with other committee members for the administration of Blagdon Local History Society:
